

CAREERS IN UNDERWATER ARCHAEOLOGY: A VIRTUAL PANEL DISCUSSION

This panel, organized by ACUA student associate members, seeks to give students and early career professionals in underwater and maritime archaeology an idea of the careers available and current job market in the field. We will bring together underwater archaeologists working in a broad array of careers, including academia, public and private sector cultural resource management, and museums. Panelists will discuss qualifications needed to be in their line of work and what their jobs entail, with the goal of providing guidance to and answering questions for those who are early in their careers.

APRIL 21, 2022

7:00 – 8:00pm EST

GoogleMeet

Email grad-rep@acuaonline.org for link

MEET THE PANELISTS

Dave Conlin

National Park Service
Chief of Submerged
Resources Center

Bert Ho

S.F. Maritime National Historical Park
Chief of Cultural Resources and Museum Management

Joe Hoyt

NOAA's Office of National
Marine Sanctuaries
National Maritime Heritage
Coordinator

Madeline Roth

NOAA's Maritime Heritage
Program
Maritime Archaeologist

Amanda Evans

Gray & Pape, Inc.
Principal Investigator/Marine
Archaeologist

Jason Raupp

East Carolina University
Program of Maritime Studies
Assistant Professor

Advisory Council on Underwater Archaeology